Pipeline with Questions

Which information is needed?
Where is existing information stored?
How can the existing information be accessed?
How good is the quality of the existing information?

Which information should be excluded?
How can existing information be collected?

How should the information be stored?
What quality issues do appear?
Are there other external sources that can be exploited to collect information?

Where should the information be stored?
How can the information be reused easily?

Do the coding decisions make sense?
What information is missing/wrong/harmful?
Can the original source be accessed?
Is the code and data reusable?
Is the code efficient?
What are the next steps?